

Sites of Meaning

markers stones for the millennium

Sites of Meaning is grateful to those organisations who have funded and supported the project. In particular we would like to thank all the landowners and farmers on whose land these stones are placed, and Derbyshire County Council Highways Authority for their guidance and help. Sites of Meaning would like to thank Longcliffe Quarries, Real Stone and the Stanton Stone Company for gifts of stone. And finally the students on the National Diploma in Graphic Design at Chesterfield College for designing this leaflet and the Peak District National Park Authority who administer the Sustainable Development Fund that supported the production of this brochure.
